

New Southbound Connectivity

Elite Development Program

Purpose

In an effort to encourage outstanding students from the Indo-Pacific to study in Taiwan and explore the diverse culture of Taiwan, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MOFA) initiated the New Southbound Connectivity Elite Development Program. Through this program, students will take professional and practical semiconductor-related courses along with Chinese language courses provided by National Taipei University of Technology (NTUT) and the Chinese Language Training Center (CLTC).

Scholarship

Recipients will attend semiconductor-related courses and Chinese language courses from September 2022 and receive an additional stipend of NT$ 8,000 per month.

Courses include enterprise visiting and cultural field trips.

Eligibility

1. The applicant should be a sophomore, junior or senior at one of the universities in New Southbound Policy countries (see the list attached).
