□ Special Features and Advantages

○ Specialized Korean Language Education

- Accurate assessment of learners' levels and placement through speaking and writing tests and written exams
- Systematic and phased learning progress based on learners' levels
- Integrated education that aims to improve students' communication skills by using textbooks developed by our institute
- Conducted in the form of real time online class, providing active language education with two-way communication between instructors and learners
- Systematic learning by easily accessing anytime, anywhere, regardless of location or learning conditions.

○ Specialized Instructors

- Instructors with masters' and doctoral degrees in language-related studies, such as Korean language and education
- Each class's instructor closely monitors and remotely manages learners' learning abilities.

○ Systematic evaluation method

- Evaluation for completion if the total score of the final exam, occasional evaluation, and task performance is 70 or higher.
- Occasional evaluation reduces the burden of evaluation and increases the effectiveness of learning by notifying students in advance and giving them sufficient time. In addition, assignments are given after class in order to enhance students' integrity and to achieve the effect of self-directed learning.
