

Shaping Asia's Future: Development, Innovation, and Society in Transition

Dear Students of the AUA Member Universities,

We are pleased to announce a Call for Applications to participate in an online student-led conference organized by the Nazarbayev University Student Government!

The Shaping Asia's Future: Development, Innovation, and Society in Transition invites future leaders and researchers from all over Asia to present and discuss their scientific work on issues of the 21st century. We welcome submissions from both undergraduate and 1st year master students.

Please use this link to learn more about the event and submit your work by March 9!

Conference Overview:

Dates: 10-12 April

Time: TBA

Format: Online

Fee: Free

Eligibility:

1. A student from an AUA member university
2. Undergraduate or 1st year Masters students
3. Language: English
4. Authorship: Student-led research or faculty co-authorship
5. Quantitative, qualitative, experimental, computational, theoretical, or mixed methods
6. Track selection: Authors must indicate the most appropriate track and subtheme

 Accepted submissions will be assigned to paper panels and poster sessions based on format and reviewer recommendation.*

Prizes

There will be winners in each track:

1st place: $1,000

2nd place: $500

3rd place: $300

Best poster:

1st place: $100

2nd place: $100

3rd place: $100

Selection Process:

Period	Selection Stage
February 13 - March 9	Application Period
By March 12	Screening Results will be sent
By March 22	Video recordings to be sent
By March 29	Posters to be sent
Event days	Winners announcement

If you have any inquiries, please contact: student_government@nu.edu.kz